I really like the faculty and I had the best environment for my studies and overall growth . I learned many new things from my teachers who are very helpful in every way they could . being a BCA student isn't just about geeking out over software or getting lost in the realm of ones and zeros. It's also about creativity and innovation. Whether we're designing sleek user interfaces, crafting elegant algorithms, or dreaming up the next big app, we're constantly pushing the boundaries of what's possible in the digital realm.

College

A place where a group of strangers meet, that turns out to be a beautiful family at the end.

From
Bunking lectures,

To
Wanting to attend them one more time,

Happy days came to an end.

"When can you get happiness and sorrow at the same time?"

"On the last day of exam," The last year college student answered quietly.

INTERVIEW QUESTIONS FOR FRESHERS

1. Tell me a little bit about yourself.

The interviewer wants to know how you would communicate about a topic that only you can describe well. Here, the goal is to show them what is not already mentioned in your resume. It is a good opportunity to tell them about your skills with a personalised answer without cramming too much information.

Example: Starting from my schooling to post-graduation, I have taken part in several community service events, such as volunteering to teach mathematics to the underprivileged. My participation and success in state and zonal level chess championships taught me lateral thinking and prepared me for challenging assignments. Thanks to my   experiences, I have a broader perspective of life and profound respect for hard work.
2. What are your hobbies?

The focus of an HR interview is to understand the kind of person you are and whether you can be a correct fit for the job. The interviewer may try to assess your personality traits with a seemingly unrelated question about your favourite pastimes. While your hobbies and interests may be out of the realm of the job, they can still apply to the job.

Example: My degree in English literature has also widened my range of vision into classics written in world languages. When I am not reading, I am learning Spanish through an app. During my teen years, I won many accolades for creative writing and elocution, and I continue that habit to date by partaking in open mics for poetry reading.

3. Why do we hire you or how are you the right candidate for this job?

This may be among the most challenging interview questions for freshers and the most significant chance to project your strengths in a positive light. Refrain from comparisons with other candidates vying for the job and be confident about what you can bring to the position.

Example: I possess the required qualifications for the position, and my academic performance speaks for itself. In addition to the final year project that I finished at Clear Manufacturing Company, I was a part of the team that interned at the same facility the previous semester. This period helped me understand various aspects of the production cycle, workplace safety and factory functions. During my summer break, I enrolled in CNC programming and machine designing software courses, which allow me to multi-task if needed.

Most important

INTERVIEW QUESTIONS FOR FRESHERS

4. Why do you want to work here and what do you know about this company?

The person interviewing you wants to know whether you are keen on joining the organisation, or if this opportunity is a learning curve for you. You can expect this question no matter which field you choose, so you can start by doing some research about the company's history, objectives and verticals.

Example: Although established a couple of years ago, your company is among the fastest-growing e-commerce companies in the country. As a loyal customer of the company myself, I have been following your success stories on social media and mainstream news. Your eco-friendly practices and CSR drives have been quite inspiring to youth. Also, the corporate leadership and executive training programs hosted at your campus can go a long way in accelerating my career.

5. How long do you plan to remain with us and where do you see yourself in five years?

Employers invest a lot in training and onboarding new employees into their roles and respective teams. If they hire you, they want to be sure that you are going to stay for the long term. If it is a short gig, refrain from misrepresenting your motives—express your enthusiasm for being considered for the position in such an esteemed company and express your willingness to continue in a good work environment.

Example: For a fresher like me, the initial years make for a solid foundation over which I can build my career, and I can ask for no better organisation than yours. I would like to serve the company for as long as I can have an enriching career. From what I have heard, mentors take recruits under their wing in a tailored approach. In the next couple of years, I plan to polish my skills and deliver my full potential to every project I am assigned.
